This privacy notice sets out in more detail how we process personal information in the following categories:

CARE RECORDS

EMPLOYMENT, VOLUNTEERING AND TRAINING RECORDS

DONOR AND SUPPORTER RECORDS

1. Care Records

In order to ensure that we provide you with the highest quality of care, we keep records about you and the care we provide for you.

Treetops Hospice Care collects, stores and processes personal information about potential, current and former patients and service users along with family members, carers or friends of patients, where their details have been provided to us for the purposes of providing care.

1.1 What types of personal data do we handle?

The personal data we process is provided to us by the individual and possibly also by a third party healthcare professional who has referred the individual to us for care.

This can include: -

- Personal details (gender, race, ethnicity, sexual orientation, religion)
- Contact details (names, addresses, telephone numbers and emergency contact(s))
- Medical information (physical and mental health conditions, medications, previous treatments and records of care given by other health and social care organisations)

Health records are held on paper and electronically and we have a legal duty to keep these confidential, accurate and secure at all times in line with Data Protection Laws.

1.2 What is the purpose of processing this data?

Treetops Hospice Care has a legal duty to care for its patients and service users and is contracted to provide services by the NHS. Processing this information is necessary for the provision of our services.

We are working more closely in partnership with health and social care providers as services become more joined up and Treetops will share information as and when required with your consent. Sometimes we may need to share without telling you for legal reasons, or when it is in your vital interest or for safeguarding purposes.

If we need to use your personal information for any reason beyond our legal duty, we will discuss this with you. You have the right to ask us not to use your information in this way. However, there are exceptions to this.

- If the public interest is thought to be of greater importance: for example, if a serious crime has been committed; if there are risks to the public or our staff; to protect vulnerable children or adults.
- Where we have a legal duty, for example reporting some infectious diseases, wounding by firearms and complying with court orders.
- If we need to use the information for medical research. We have to ask permission from the Confidentiality Advisory Group (appointed by the NHS Health Research Authority) to do this.

Our staff are trained to handle your information correctly and protect your confidentiality and privacy; we do not undertake automated decision-making such as profiling.

We aim to maintain high standards, adopt best practice for our record keeping and regularly check and report on how we are doing. Your information is never collected for direct marketing purposes and is not sold on to any other third parties. Your information is not processed overseas.

1.3 Sharing your information

We ask for your consent to share your information with other organisations as and when appropriate in order that we can provide effective care to you. If you do not want us to do this, you have the right to ask us not to and we will discuss with you the implications this may have for your care.

We will not routinely disclose any information about you without your express permission. However, there are circumstances where we must or can share information about you owing to a legal/statutory obligation.

If you want further information about the handling of care records and patient information, please contact our Caldicott Guardian Philippa Shreeve, Director of Clinical Services by phone on 0115 949 1264 or by email at pshreeve@treetopshospice.org.uk

1.4 How the NHS and care services use your information

Whenever you use a health or care service, such as attending Accident & Emergency or using Community Care services, important information about you is collected in a patient record for that service. Collecting this information helps to ensure you get the best possible care and treatment.

The information collected about you when you use these services can also be used and provided to other organisations for purposes beyond your individual care, for instance to help with:

- improving the quality and standards of care provided
- research into the development of new treatments
- preventing illness and diseases
- monitoring safety
- planning services

This may only take place when there is a clear legal basis to use this information. All these uses help to provide better health and care for you, your family and future generations. Confidential patient information about your health and care is only used like this where allowed by law.

Most of the time, anonymised data is used for research and planning so that you cannot be identified in which case your confidential patient information isn't needed.

You have a choice about whether you want your confidential patient information to be used in this way. If you are happy with this use of information you do not need to do anything. If you do choose to opt out your confidential patient information will still be used to support your individual care.

To find out more or to register your choice to opt out, please visit www.nhs.uk/your-nhs-data-matters. On this web page you will:

- See what is meant by confidential patient information
- Find examples of when confidential patient information is used for individual care and examples of when it is used for purposes beyond individual care
- Find out more about the benefits of sharing data
- Understand more about who uses the data
- Find out how your data is protected
- Be able to access the system to view, set or change your opt-out setting
- Find the contact telephone number if you want to know any more or to set/change your opt-out by phone
- See the situations where the opt-out will not apply

You can also find out more about how patient information is used at:

- <https://www.hra.nhs.uk/information-about-patients/> (which covers health and care research); and
- <https://understandingpatientdata.org.uk/what-you-need-know> (which covers how and why patient information is used, the safeguards and how decisions are made)

You can change your mind about your choice at any time.

Data being used or shared for purposes beyond individual care does not include your data being shared with insurance companies or used for marketing purposes and data would only be used in this way with your specific agreement.

Health and care organisations have until 2020 to put systems and processes in place so they can be compliant with the national data opt-out and apply your choice to any confidential patient information they use or share for purposes beyond your individual care.

Please note: Treetops Hospice Care have identified that at present we have no data flows that the new policy effects, however we will ensure all staff are aware of the policy and have communication's and materials provided to our staff, patients, volunteers and our community.
